Congress Extends and Modifies the First Time Home Buyer Tax Credit

You may already have heard that the homebuyer tax credit has been extended, with an important modification that lets move up buyers participate even if they aren't first time home buyers.

Here is part of the press release from NAR, including a link to a table that explains the new law in detail:

Expected to contribute approximately $22 billion to the economy, Congress overwhelmingly passed a bipartisan measure this week extending the $8,000 home buyer tax credit to April 30, 2010.

The legislation, which is part of a larger bill that also extends unemployment benefits, was signed into law by President Obama today.

More people are now eligible to take advantage of the law, which includes a $6,500 tax credit for buyers who are current home owners and have lived in their home for five of the past eight years.

Income limits for eligible home buyers were also expanded to $125,000 for single buyers and $225,000 for couples, up from $75,000 for individuals and $150,000 for couples. Qualifying home prices are capped at $800,000.

NAR's Government Affairs Division has compiled facts on the changes made to the current tax credit at the following Link:

November 2009

As the Holidays approach we always see the real estate market slow down. The number of listings decline and there are fewer sales. If you recall October of last year, it was the start of all the financial upheaval that has led to over 10% unemployment and put millions of homeowners underwater, owing more on their homes than they can sell for. Going forward into next year, I hope that comparisons with a year ago will no longer reveal how far we have fallen, but instead show how things are starting to improve.

October this year has been a good month for sales in Kitsap County. Thank you for your business and referrals. We are grateful, and we wish you and your family a lovely holiday season. Please enjoy Sheri Johnson's recipe for pumpkin pie. It's a favorite here at Prowse and Company and is a delicious treat for holiday guests.

Cheers,

Sheri's Super Pumpkin Pie

1/2 cup pecan pieces
 1/2 cup dark brown sugar
 3 TB softened butter
 2 large eggs
 3/4 cup dark brown sugar
 1 cup solid packed pumpkin
 1 TB all purpose flour
 1/4 tsp ground cloves
 1/4 tsp ground mace
 1/2 tsp ground ginger
 1/2 tsp ground cinnamon
 1/2 tsp salt
 1 cup evaporated milk

In food processor, add pecan pieces, dark brown sugar, and butter. Process until ingredients hold together like a paste, making sure the pecans are a fine "meal". Press very firmly into bottom only of the pie crust so it will not float up during baking.

In mixing bowl, beat eggs until frothy with hand-mixer or standing mixer. Then with mixer on low, or stirring by hand, add in order the rest of the ingredients. Beat only until well mixed. Pour slowly into praline lined crust.

Bake in oven checking after 45 minutes. Cover edges of crust to prevent over browning. Pie is done when filling is set but still slightly jiggly in center. Depending on oven 45 - 50 min. total. Remove from oven and let cool on counter until room temperature. Chill in refrigerator. Garnish with whipped cream and caramelized pecans, if desired.

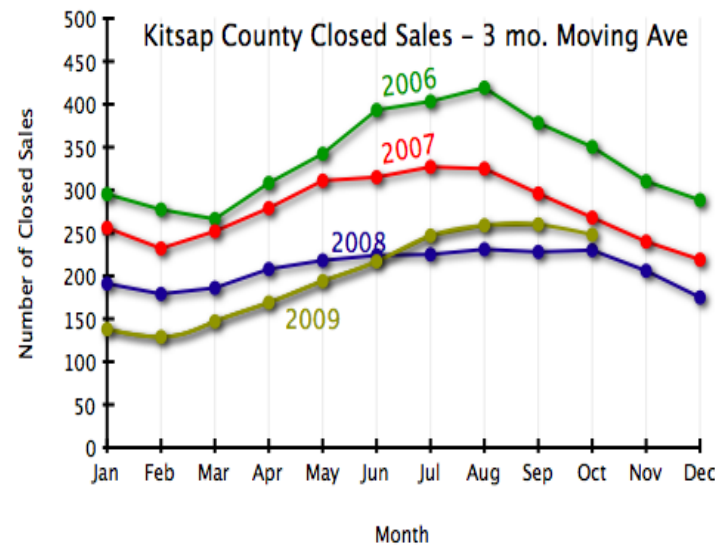

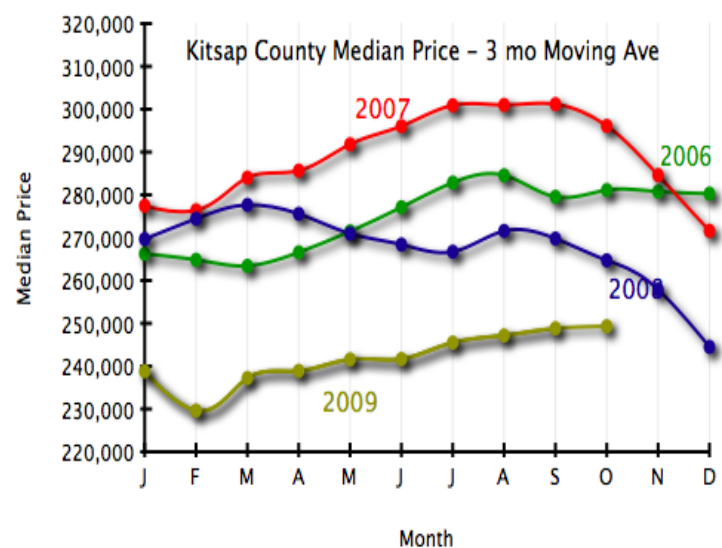

Cami Gurney Joins Prowse and Company

Cami Gurney, who was previously a long time staff member at Prowse and Company in our early years, is back with us again. Cami is a licensed real estate agent who has worked in various real estate positions in Washington and Oregon for the past 10 years. You can find her at the front desk when you walk in the door. Welcome back Cami!

Kitsap Real Estate Market Highlights

There is lot of evidence that the real estate sales in the 4th quarter this year should easily surpass the rapidly declining numbers from last year and that the total for closed sales this year may well exceed the numbers in 2008. At the same time there is no real evidence that there has been a turn around in prices. It will be interesting to see what will happen to sales now that buyer tax credit has been extended. There will be not only a seasonal drop off in November, but perhaps also a drop off because so many buyers were rushing to purchase homes before the previous tax credit expired. Closed sales this year are 1.4% behind last year (2% behind last month), pending sales are running 27% ahead (24% ahead last month). In September, there were 253 closed sales and 350 pending sales. In October there were 249 closed sales and 359 pending sales. Shown below are graphs of median price and closed sales for Kitsap County. (See more details at bprowse.com/kitsap_market_trends)
